

An aerial photograph of a lush green landscape, likely a park or nature reserve. A thick black line outlines a specific area. In the upper left, there are several light-colored, oval-shaped ponds. A winding path or stream runs through the center. On the right side, there is a small cluster of buildings with white roofs. At the bottom, a road or path is visible. Three text labels are overlaid on the image: 'Tengist nýja stígnum' in the upper left, '280 metra langur göngustígur' in the center, and 'Grindarhlið' near the bottom center.
